

(Free and download) Ethics Desk Reference for Psychologists

Ethics Desk Reference for Psychologists

W. Brad Johnson, Jeffrey E. Barnett
*ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

#1742058 in eBooks 2008-06-15 2008-06-15 File Name: B0058J8EGA | File size: 30.Mb

W. Brad Johnson, Jeffrey E. Barnett : Ethics Desk Reference for Psychologists before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Ethics Desk Reference for Psychologists:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Great summaryBy Benjamin BaileyI liked this book a lot. I has all the APA ethics outlined and offers lots of examples of common ethical complications with both. It is a good handbook for any psychologist.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. required readingBy Pxidisfor a psychology major its really good to have - required reading - ethics desk reference - helps keep you out of trouble :)0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Very helpful for my classBy ShariThis book was essential to the class I completed. I was able to refer to this book when writing papers and joining in discussions in graduate school

The Ethics Desk Reference for Psychologists is an easy-to-use pocket guide that aids psychologists in identifying and avoiding ethical dilemmas. Authors Barnett and Johnson provide a jargon-free summary of each section of the APA Ethics Code (2002), note common dilemmas and conflicts that are associated with each section, and offer practical suggestions for preventing conflict and for promoting positive practice. Additional resources to help psychologists effectively respond to ethical conflicts include: a model for ethical decision making, a detailed checklist of what to do when facing an ethics complaint, recommendations for ethical practice when faced with high-risk situations, and a list of ethics resources. This compact desk reference is an essential resource for all psychologists, trainees, and graduate students.

About the Author Jeffrey E. Barnett is a licensed psychologist in independent practice in Arnold, Maryland and a Professor on the Affiliate Faculty in the Department of Psychology at Loyola College in Maryland. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Professional Psychology in Clinical Psychology and in Clinical Child and Adolescent Psychology and is a Distinguished Practitioner in Psychology of the National Academies of Practice. Dr. Barnett is a Fellow of six divisions of the American Psychological Association and a member of the APA Ethics Committee. He previously served two terms on the Ethics Committee of the Maryland Psychological Association with one term as Chair. He is an Associate Editor of the journal Professional Psychology: Research and Practice and Editor of its Focus on Ethics section. Barnett has presented and published widely on issues relevant to ethical practice in psychology. He is active in leadership positions in the profession of psychology and has served as president of the Maryland Psychological Association and of several APA Divisions. W. Brad Johnson is an Associate Professor of psychology in the Department of Leadership, Ethics, and Law at the United States Naval Academy, and a Faculty Associate in the Graduate School of Business and Education at Johns Hopkins University. A clinical psychologist, he is a fellow of the American Psychological Association and has served as a member of the APA Ethics Committee. Johnson has authored more than 80 articles and book chapters, as well as nine books, in the areas of ethical behavior, mentor relationships, and counseling. He is a contributing editor to several journals in the field of psychology, and is past-president of Division 19 of the American Psychological Association--the national association of military psychologists.